As of SP 8.4 Managed objects using the CIDR_MATCH matching type can match IPv4 and IPv 6 addresses in the same managed object. These combined managed objects can simplify your configuration and save on managed objects licenses. If you have customers or properties (for example, a collection of web servers) with IPv4 and IPv6 address space, you need to manage objects to monitor them and protect them. This results in a more complicated management (changes in, for example, the IPv4 MO also had to be made in the IPv6 MO) and to a duplication of the number of managed objects9. Combining managed objects Whenever possible you can simplify your management and save money on license costs. However, as an example of the complexity of having two managed objects (an IPv4 and an IPv6) for the same entity in its network, the combination of the administered objects is also complicated and can lead to errors. Automate this process will add consistency and reduce manual effort in the combination of managed objects. The following Python program (called Combine-V4-v6-Mos.py in the code of examples) is very rudimentary and should be improved where comments indicate it (and, probably, in other places) before using it in production. The program follows these basic steps: Collect the implementation MOS SP If there is a file called MOS_TO_MERGE.JSON Read that file Check that the MOS in MOS_TO_MERGE.JSON exist compare the IPv4 and IPv6 mos with a set of rules to see if meet the requirements to be combined. MO If the MOS_TO_MERGE.JSON file does not exist, simply print a list of managed items in the SP system. The format of the MOS_TO_MERGE.JSON file is: [{"v4A": A «cust01_v4», A «V6»: A «cust01_v6»}, A «V4»: A «cust02», «V6»: A «cust02A »_v6a»}, A «cust03-4», A «v6»: A «cust04»}, {«v4»: A «cust-04», «V6»: }, {«V4»: A «cust4-05», A «V6»: A «cust6-05»}] When you combine-v5-v6-os.py is executed and the file mos_to_merge.json is presente, la salida tiene el siguiente aspecto: $./combine-v4-v6-MOs.py RecopilaciÃn de informaciÃn sobre objetos gestionados de spleader.example.com Hay 50 MOs. Hay 4 de 37 MOs con coincidencias CIDR que son coincidencias IPv6. Por favor, cree un archivo llamado mos_to_merge.json y rellÃnelo con una lista con formato JSON de los nombres de las MOs a evaluar para su combinaciÃn. The list should look like: [{ "v4": "mo1_name v4", "v6": "mo1_name v6" }, { "v4": "mo2_name v4", "v6": "mo2_name v6" }] Your MOs are: cidr blocks cust01_v4 cidr blocks cust02 cidr blocks cust03-4 cidr blocks cust-04 cidr blocks cust4-05 cidr blocks web servers-v4 cidr blocks cust12 cidr_v6 blocks cust01_v6 cidr_v6 blocks cust02_v6 cidr_v6 blocks cust04 cidr_v6 blocks cust6-04 cidr_v6 blocks cust6-05 After youÃcÃave created the mos_to_merge.json file to describe the MOs you would like to merge, running the Python program results in output that should look like: $./combine-v4-v6-MOs.py Collecting information on managed objects from spleader.example.com.
