While the specifics can vary from plan to plan, you're paying to ensure the well-being of the people you leave behind, whether that happens today or decades from now.From Lincoln Heritage to MetLife to Erie Insurance, there are many life insurance providers to choose from, each with their own range of plans and options to choose from. While the best plans can definitely be expensive, cheaper plans are available, especially if you're comfortable with a term policy.Photo Courtesy: Sean Gallup/Getty Images Other factors also affect how much life insurance will cost. In fact, the premium for a plan that has coverage of $250,000 can cost less than $200 per year depending on your demographic and the plan you select.Finding Affordable Life InsuranceThe level of life insurance coverage you need changes over time. However, it doesn't have to be. CC0/rawpixel/Pixabay Life insurance is something most people have at least heard of, but not everyone understands who should get it and what it's actually for. Between the range of choices and the prospect of dealing with your own mortality, making sense of life insurance can seem like a daunting task. They can explain the pros and cons of life insurance and help you find the perfect policy for your situation. When you're young and have no spouse or children, you may not need a policy because no one is counting on your income. If used wisely, life insurance is the final way of providing for those you care about.Determining Your Life Insurance NeedsSome people shy away from life insurance policies because they think they can't afford them. A term policy lasts for a set period of time, such as 10 or 20 years. Part of the premium covers the cost of the insurance, while the rest is set aside and earns interest. Insurance agents, estate planning lawyers and tax professionals can help you navigate the many life insurance policies and providers out there. The same is true for individuals with adult children and those who have enough money in savings to cover their loved ones' expenses.Photo Courtesy: Lars Baron/Getty Images Another consideration is when to buy a life insurance policy. Contrary to what you might expect, life insurance isn't just for the elderly. Smokers and individuals with serious health conditions can expect to pay more for their policies, while younger people and women tend to have lower premiums than older adults and men. If the insured individual dies while the policy is in effect, the beneficiary receives a payment from the insurance company. Some are run by individual insurance companies, such as this one from Guardian Life, while others are maintained by independent sources.Photo Courtesy: Tim Boyle/Getty Images Alternatively, you can also seek out an expert who understands the industry and available products to help you make an informed decision. Instead, it's a guarantee for your loved ones that they'll have the financial resources they need in the event of your death. You may also be able to borrow money against the policy or use it to pay for future premiums.If You Have Dependents, You Need Life InsuranceThe most common reason for needing life insurance is if you have dependents: people who depend on you financially, such as children, a spouse that doesn't work or a parent who you support. Some people wait until they marry or have children. How to Find a PolicyThere are plenty of online tools that can evaluate your insurance needs and help you choose a policy that works for you. Term insurance has the benefit of usually being cheaper than permanent insurance with equivalent benefits.Photo Courtesy: Don Bartlett/Getty Images Permanent insurance — which also includes whole life, variable life and universal life insurance — combines a death benefit with some form of cash savings. At the very least, a life insurance policy can cover the costs of your final expenses, such as the cost of a burial or cremation, funeral and outstanding debts, which in turn keeps those things from burdening your family.Photo Courtesy: Chris Hondros/Getty Images With a better policy, you can also provide money to cover a mortgage, education, or other large expenses that could be too much to manage with the loss of your income otherwise. The right time for you to buy one will ultimately depend on your personal financial and health situation. This type of policy ensures they will always have coverage as long as they pay the premiums on time.Either way, buying one when you're younger and healthier is usually cheaper than waiting until you're closer to needing one, even if you end up spending money on a policy you likely won't need. With a bit of basic information, you'll be prepared to decide for yourself if life insurance is right for you and your family.Life insurance plans in the United States are usually divided into term and permanent policies. Others purchase a guaranteed renewable policy before they have dependents. Generally speaking, you can withdraw that amount early or let it ride for a much larger sum upon your death.
