Gulp!

As he felt Darryl’s wrath in his eyes, Watson shuddered and swallowed hard.

Darryl was the Elysium Gate’s Sect Master, and he would keep his words. Back in th Hexad’s school hall, Darryl had vowed to destroy Kunlun in three days in front of all t powerful cultivators, and he really did it.

The Tucker Cult was only a second-class family of cultivators. If Darryl wanted to destroy them, he could do it in minutes.

However, Watson changed his mind. Darryl was only a prisoner at that moment, so Watson was bolder with his actions.

“F*ck you!”

Watson yelled out loud as he slapped Darryl brutally on his face without any warning

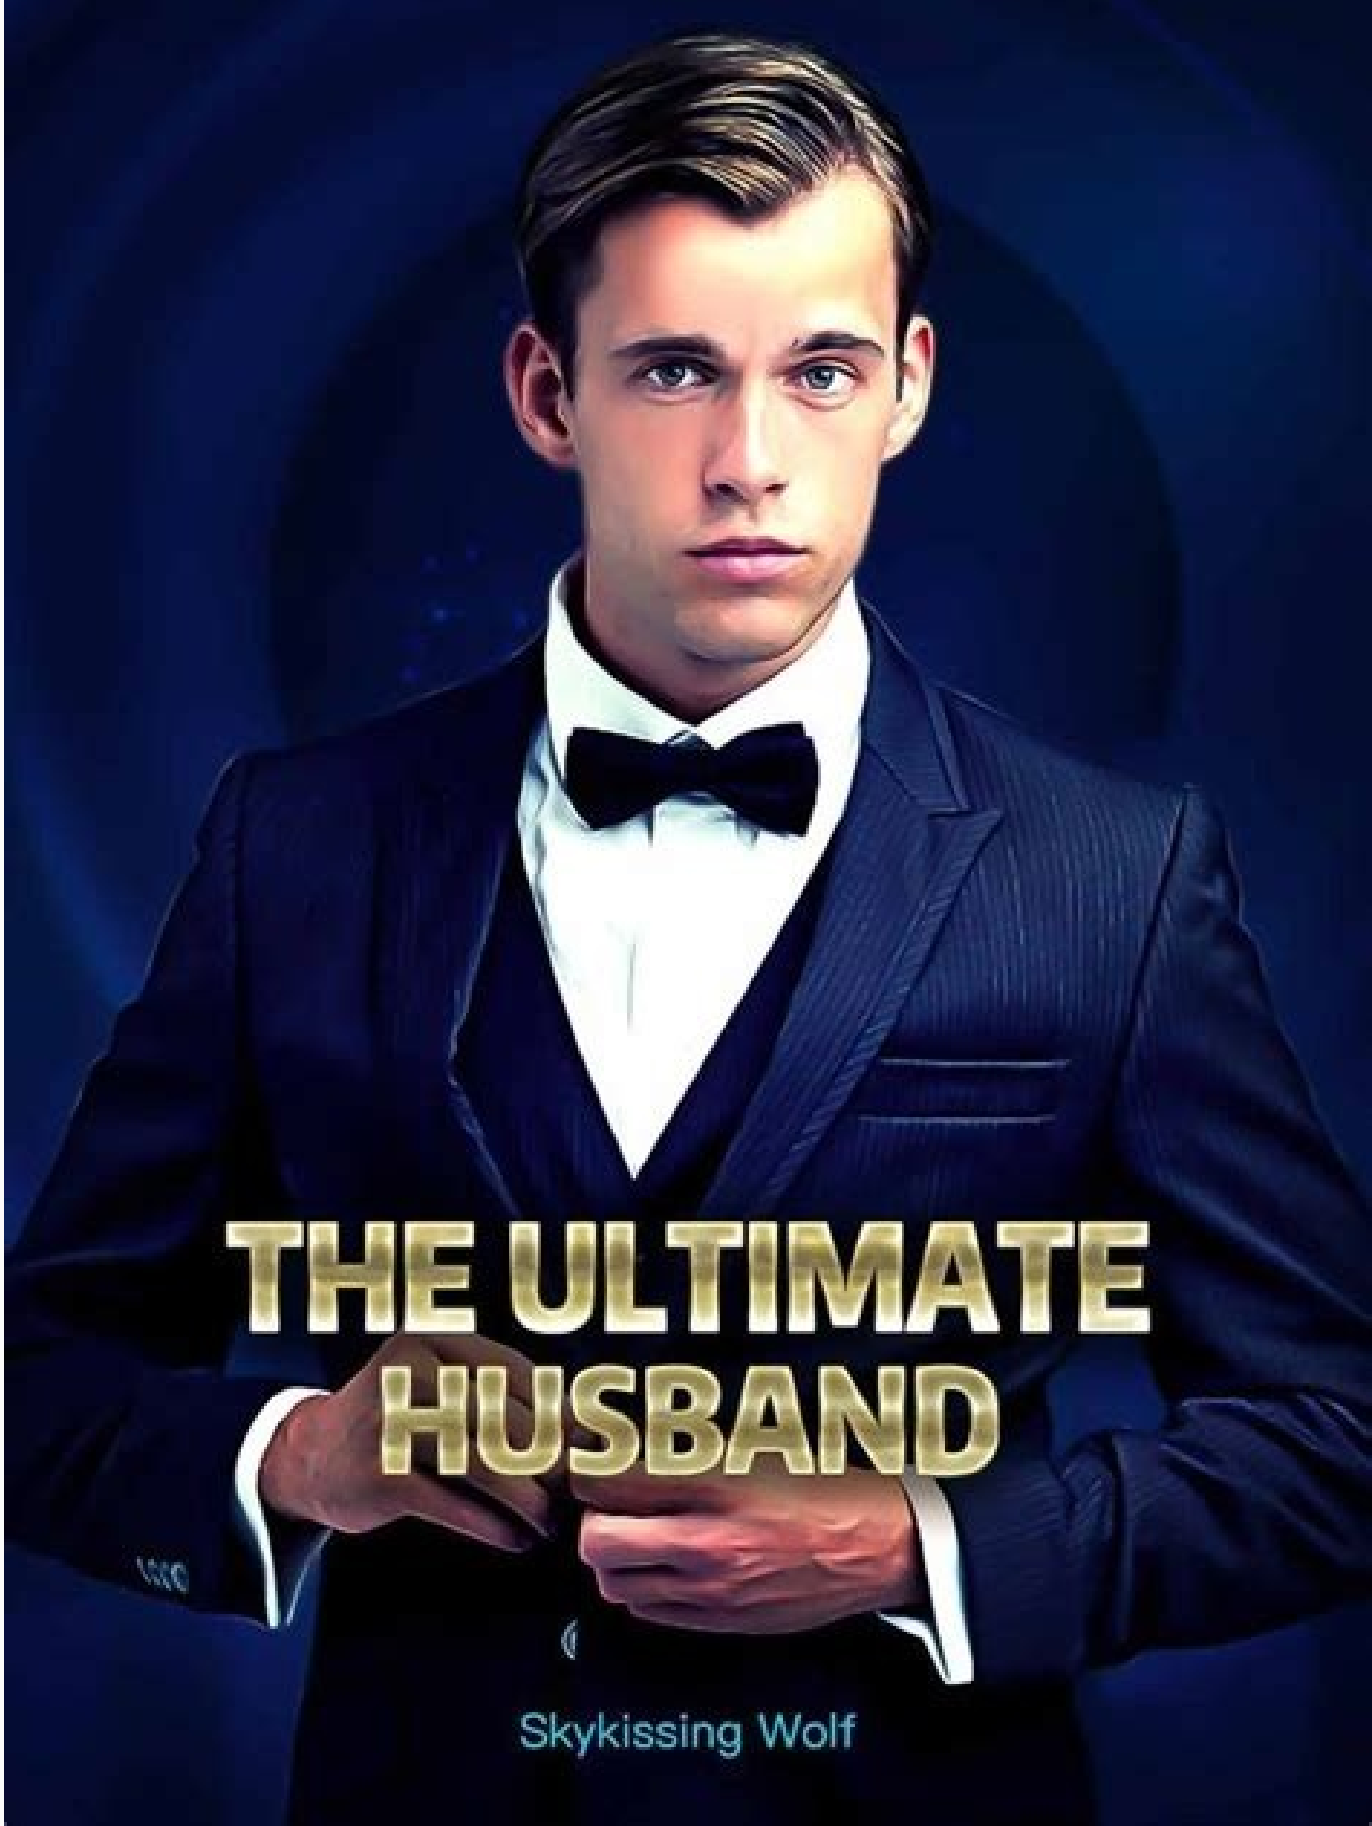

Slap!

The slap had contained all of his wrath. He made Darryl stumble and almost knelt or the ground. Darryl’s face immediately had a red handprint on it.

Watson grimaced; Darryl was too despicable. Not only did he not heed his words, he even turned around and threatened him instead. It was unbearable!

Gasp!

Lily trembled. She exclaimed and cried. “Stop it! Stop it! Do not hit my husband!”

Chapter 2074

"Master Jackie!"

Finally, Jacob snapped back to his senses. He looked at Jackie calmly. "Thank you for your generosity. The Famed Sword Manor has been around for a few thousand years. We are often kind to the people in the world of cultivators; we've never had any enemies. So, we do not need the Illusion Sound Sect's protection, nor do we need an alliance."

Jacob's tone was polite, but his eyes were filled with determination.

The three Violet category weapons required ten years of the Famed Sword Manor's blood and tears. So how could they give them to the Illusion Sound Sect?

Chapter 2369

At such a close distance, those Raksasa soldiers had no time to react to Darryl's sudden attack. Their eyes widened as they all fell to the ground.

'All done!'

Darryl clapped his hands, and then he removed a soldier's armor and put it on his body. He pretended to be one of the Raksasa soldiers.

However, the Raksasa men were generally tall and burly, so the armor was a little loose on Darryl.

However, Darryl did not care too much about those tiny details. After that, he swaggered toward the depths of the camp.

Darryl did not notice any other Raksasa soldiers around him, but he was confused by the surroundings.

The tents looked the same. 'Which one is Debra and Shentel's tent?'

No one was there at the time and it was the perfect time to escape. Heather thought about it. After getting out of there, he finds a place where he can kill himself. Brother Ambrose was dead, and there was no point in continuing. She couldn't stay here and let the sand pirates get away. But her hands and feet were tightly bound and she couldn't get out, no matter how hard she tried. Just then, the door to the room swung open like a drunk, wobbly man. But the cave wasn't very big, and Ambrose didn't have enough space to use his powers properly. Combined with the fact that he has yet to recover, his speed has decreased over time. Pretty quickly, the stone winged eagle managed to rip open the wound on Ambrose's arm and covered his arm with blood. A shot of pain shot through Ambrose's body and made him gasp, breaking into a cold sweat. Damn, that beast was pretty strong. At that moment, the eagle made another sound as it plummeted down again. Pinned against the cave wall with nowhere to go, Ambrose's face paled with despair. It would be unfair for him to die here. Hooray, beep! cheapAt the last moment, Snowball and Grayball let out several screams before rushing forward to get in front of Ambrose as they called out for their mother. What... Ambrose stopped at the sight and felt strangely touched. they guessed that these two really came for two eagles. In fact, the golden eagle was the archenemy of the cave snake. However, the eagles were only two months old and were no match for the snake. At that moment the eagles saw a snake approaching. They didn't panic and barked contentedly before moving on. The eagles were too young to know fear or danger, so they thought the snake was food. As they reached it, Snowball and Grayball pecked at the snake's head and there was a sharp click. tail in response. blow! Snowball was hit hard by the snake's tail, letting out a cry of pain and staggering back. Damned. ... With that thought, he saw Snowball slowly approach the edge of the cliff and fall down. At top speed, he reached out to pull Snowball up the wing and pull him back. In the next second, the cave snake was snorting with pleasure, not having the courage to attack the eagles, and easily threw them away. he shouts, "Hey, hey! Don't eat guys, don't eat. Ambrose was a little angry as he spoke. and two eagles mistook him for dinner. How embarrassing! Everyone would laugh if they knew. Ah! The eagles stopped and looked at Ambrose curiously. Roughly as strong as the four related animals, the golden eagle was no less intelligent. Both eagles really understood what Ambrose was talking about. Ambrose breathed a sigh of relief as they stopped and moved closer to grab anotherHe saw that one of the young eagles had yellow-beige fur, and the other gray. Realizing this, Ambrose named them Snowball and Gray Lump. He played with them for a while and they soon fell in love. Ambrose was gone. At the same time, Kimi couldn't help but worry about Daryl's safety. The thought of Daryl made Kim blush instantly. entered it? Why was she worried about Daryl's safety? Kimi shook his head at that thought, continuing to help the Divine Farmer... On the other hand, in the great desert air, Ambrose was dragging the Golden Winged Eagle behind him, moving forward quickly. Ambrose was in unspeakable panic, tried to fight, but to no avail, since the bird's claws were so strong that he could hardly move. It was not clear how long she had been flying when the bird finally slowed down. Ugh! It was then that Ambrose couldn't help but gasp at what he saw in front of them. All that could be seen below was the vast Gobi Desert. It was pitch black sand and rocks that turned space into endless mountains. A few hundred meters away stood a high mountain, the top of which pierced the clouds with indescribable beauty. The mountain weighed several kilograms. - I won't be a witch. Can't be. There is nothing you can do. Daryl's expression was calm as he spoke, but his chest was pounding gently. He clearly felt that Antigone had become much stronger since Daryl had last seen him, and it was obvious that he had regained his powers at Lange's house. Daryl was no match for him under these circumstances, even with Zhu's help. At these words, Antigone's face darkened. "Stop being stupid, Darryl Darby. You have no control over what I'm about to do." Antigonus wanted nothing more than to kill Daryl and only held back until he saw Circe. Daryl smiled without saying a word. Just at that moment, Ju looked Antigone up and down. "Ho-ho! You're sure you're an archdemon, aren't you? You throw away your names and statusyou want. Listen. I'm not afraid of you like others. I don't care what you want from Circe Newman, but come on. She's mine, you know? I'm looking at him." Zhu's expression was dead, ssss! The golden-winged eagle reached Ambrose in the blink of an eye. Only then did Ambrose finally look at him clearly and gasp in shock, a huge golden bird... As Ambrose watched in confusion, the bird fluttered up and closed its claws on Ambrose before flying away. The claws made Ambrose feel like he was being torn from bone to bone, and the pain made him sweat as he screamed, "Hey, where are you taking me?" The bird didn't mind. it just sped up. just hopelessly Heather didn't get saved and he fell off the cliff to be in the clutches" Daryl and Ju played a few more games of chess on the porch by the lake and both had their strengths and weaknesses. The battle was getting sharper At this point, Daryl made the last motion before screaming with laughter. I lost brother Ju. Ju looked beaming at Teno, "Good, very good. You did a great thing for me today, Tenok, and you will receive a great reward for it. Fort Soaring Eagle was built on a high rock, and Ambrose must have died from such a fall. However, at the last moment, Snowball and Grayball clapped their hands several times and then rushed forward to throw themselves in front of Ambrose, calling for their mother. What... Ambrose stopped at the sight of it and felt strangely touched. He would never have thought that the two of them would do such a thing. Indeed, the serpent came for two young eagles. In fact, the golden-winged eagle was the archenemy of the cave snake. However, the young spotted eagles were only two months old and were no match for a snake. At that moment lesser spotted eagles saw a snake approaching. They didn't panic, letting out happy crows before charging forward. The young eagles were too young to know fear or danger, so they thought the snake was food. Snowball and Grayball pecked at the snake's head when they reached it, for which they snapped their tails sharply in response. He hit! Snow White hit the snake's tail hard, let out a cry of pain, and backed away. Damn hell. Ambrose couldn't help but smile bitterly. These two really didn't know the slightest bit of fear. With that thought, he saw Snowball approaching the edge of the cliff, teetering on the edge of a fall. He reached out at full speed to grab Snowball's wing and lift him back up. In the next second, the cave snake wounded Ambrose, he snorted merrily, he also did not have the courage to attack the eaglets, he slightly pushed them away, shouting: "Hey, hey!
